Principal's Report

On Thursday 11th November Quandialla Public School will be holding a Remembrance Day service. Ken McAlister will be joining us to help give the students an understanding of the reason for Remembrance Day. Unfortunately, we are unable to invite parents to join us, but it's getting closer!

Welcome back to Mrs Maslin who will be working at the school Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the remainder of the term. Mrs Maslin will be taking on Miss Lee's role. Abby Pettit will be joining us every Friday to help with our Friday activities

When the students of Quandialla Public School walk through the gate they are all students in our care. They are no longer someone's sister or brother or cousin they are a kid that has come to school to learn. Tomorrow I will be discussing with the students what is appropriate talk for Quandialla Public School. All our students know it's not appropriate to swear at school and do a pretty good job of following this rule. We'll be talking about what business from outside school needs to be brought to school. We love to hear stories of happy and fun events students have with their families and friends, but the staff and other students don't need to hear stories of unpleasant events. Disagreements and fights that occur outside of school hours are not Quandialla Public School talk.

Thanks to all the parents that gave a hand and provided food for the clearing sale on Saturday, I heard it was a great success. It is fantastic to be gradually getting back to normal, it has been a very weird 2 years and hopefully 2022 will be as close to normal as we get. As restrictions start to ease there is a reminder that all visitors to our school need to be fully vaccinated. All visitors need to enter via the office to check-in and must wear a mask, while indoors. Currently school staff are still wearing masks inside but no longer need to wear them outside. All adults on the school site need to practise social distancing
