SCHOOL SPECTACULAR 2023

Principal's Report:

Our end of year events are creeping up very quickly. We are already into swimming, and it's going very well despite the weather. Our Presentation Day and Christmas concert will be held on Tuesday 12th December and the year 6 farewell will be held on Thursday 14th December.

Presentation Day commences at 9:30 and will be held in the Quandialla Memorial Hall. Students need to wear their best school uniform for Presentation Day. On completion of the presentation of the awards, the students will perform our end of year concert. Students will need Christmas clothes to change into after the Presentation Day. We will let you know, next week, of any other costumes needed for the concert. Following Presentation Day there will be morning tea back at school.

The Year 6 Farewell will be held on Thursday 14th December starting at 5pm. More details will go home about this a bit closer to the date.

There has been a case of COVID in our school, please keep an eye on your children and if they are displaying symptoms test and keep them at home.

Next Thursday, 7th December, will be our last P&C meeting for the year. It will be held in the staff room starting at 3pm – please be sure to be there at 3, as there is CPR training for staff at 3.30.

GOVERNING A NOT-FOR-PROFIT ORGANISATION

THURS 7 DECEMBER
9AM TO 12NOON

Whether you're a new committee or board member or you've been doing it for a while, there is always more to learn about your legal responsibilities. In this popular training session, a lawyer from Justice Connect's Not-for-profit Law will help you unpack the A-Z of governance.

You'll learn about:

- What is the legal role of committee/board members as decision makers
- What is the difference between governance and management
- What are some common not-for-profit legal structures and charity status
- Why your organisation's constitution and purpose are important
- Four key legal duties of committee/board members
- Potential liabilities and how to protect yourself and your organisation.

Who should attend?

New and current committee/board members and senior staff of not-for-profits.

TOP LEGAL ISSUES FOR MANAGING VOLUNTEERS

THURS 7 DECEMBER
5.30PM TO 8.30PM

Do volunteers contribute to your organisation? Organisations that engage volunteers need to understand their legal obligations and how to legally and safely recruit and manage their volunteer workforce. In this training session, a lawyer from Justice Connect's Not-for-profit Law will focus on the top legal issues you need to be aware of and give you tools and resources to help you confidently administer your volunteer programs.

You'll learn about:

- Defining the volunteer relationship
- Equal opportunity in volunteer recruitment
- Your organisation's duty of care to its volunteers including work, health and safety duties
- Volunteer safety and risk management
- Reviewing and ending the volunteer relationship.

Who should attend?

Volunteer managers and staff who engage with volunteers.
